Dear Residents of Sundowner

I have been involved with the Sundowner resident association for the past 4 to 5 years at which time I was the Chairman for the Honeydew CPF (Community Police Forum).

Part of my duties being the establishment of new associations and the support of functioning associations.

I have got to know the committee of the Sundowner Resident Association and the good work they do in their area. An association is usually judged on the crime or lack of it in the association and looking at the crime statistics for Sundowner over the past few years, a great job has been done in securing the area. Sundowner is one of the well run associations in Honeydew and the efforts of the committee must be commended.

Many residents benefit from a neighbourhood watch and this also shows in the house prices in an area and of course the chance to sleep a bit sounder at night.

Crime remains a huge scourge in SA and if it were not for the proactive measures of many resident associations, things would probably be much worse.

To the residents of Sundowner, support your committee; they need your support as they strive to make your area safer at no reward to themselves.
